

Application Form for the Scholarship of the Master's Program in (Extended) Ecumenical Studies (Master of Arts)

Faculty of Protestant Theology in cooperation with the Centre for Religion and Society (ZERG)

MEST Faculty Scholarship

One full Faculty Scholarships for the MEST is available, which may sometimes be divided for two students; admission to the MEST Program by no means guarantees that the applicant will be offered a Faculty Scholarship. We strongly advise that applicants also pursue other sources of funding. MEST Faculty Scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement and evidence of special ecumenical interest, as documented in the statement of motivation submitted with the candidate's application for admission (see the "Admission Prerequisites" page of the MEST website).
